State Levy Hiked .48 Mill

...Equalization Board Sets 8.45-Mill Figure

The State Board of Equalization Friday set Nebraska's 1959 state levy at 8.45 mills, an increase of .48 mill over last year's 7.97 mills.

This means Nebraskans will pay $8.45 for each $1,000 assessed valuation on their tangible property.

The levy was adopted unanimously by the 5-member Board of Equalization from figures recommended by State Tax Commissioner Fred Herrington.

Due to an increase in total assessed valuation and a hike in miscellaneous fees, the general fund levy on property taxes actually went down .10 of a mill from last year to 6.37 mills, compared with 6.48 mills.

$20 Million
The 6.37 mills will be levied

Tax Table

ied against a total assessed valuation on tangible property of $3,175,363,640, which will raise $20,238,834.

This $20.2 million, which compares with the $19,580,680 which was to be raised by the 1958 levy of 6.47 mills applied against $3,026,380,356 valuation, represents the amount needed for regular state government operating expenses.

It also includes the required 3% cushion necessary to pay the counties 2% for collecting the taxes and the 1% necessary to allow for possible unpaid taxes.

2.08 Mills
Special levies jumped to 2.08 mills this year, an increase of .58 due to programs enacted by the 1959 Legislature.

The Legislature increased the institutional building fund levy from .75 to 1.1 mills, and added a .13 mill for state parks, and a .10 mill for agricultural research. Two special levies which remained the same are the .50 mill for the teachers' annuity fund, and .25 mill for the University of Nebraska Medical College.

Miscellaneous fees, which go into the general fund and defray the amount needed to be raised by property taxes, shot upward to an estimated $17,234,282, compared with the

New Taxes
Part of this increase is due to the addition this year of the pari-mutuel tax estimated at $525,000, the new bingo tax estimated at $50,000, additional in lieu of tax payments from public power districts estimated at $80,000, and a more than $200,000 increase in intangible taxes.

This also is the year for renewal of biennial drivers license fees which will bring $1.4 million to state coffers.

This more than offsets the half million dollars the state will lose due to the change in the head tax law, and another $500,000 from inheritance taxes which goes in to the general fund only every two years.

LEVY HIGH SINCE 1921

The state mill levy set Friday is the largest since 1921 and reflects steadily rising costs of government. See Board of Equalization stories on Page 2.

Two Graduate With High Honors ... AT NU SUMMER EXERCISES

Sunderman Weed

Two University of Nebraska students who "were in a hurry" received their bachelor degrees with "high distinction" Friday evening at the annual summer commencement exercises of the University.

They are: Norman Weed of Council Bluffs, Ia., bachelor of science in business administration. Annette G. Sunderman of Omaha, bachelor of science in education.

Six other students received their degrees with distinction. University officials said that this was the first time in the recent history of the school that there had not been a commencement speaker.

400 Graduate;

Bachelor and advanced degrees were conferred upon 400 students at the exercises held on the University mall. Chancellor Clifford M. Hardin presided.

Both of the high distinction undergraduate work in less than the customary 4 years. Weed, 26, a native of Dow City, Ia., only spent 2 1/2 years at the University. His secret was taking summer work each year and talking officials into allowing him to take more hours per semester than are permitted.

Carried 23 Hours
Last spring, Weed carried 23 hours, or five hours over the maximum. In the eight courses, he studied corporate finance, marketing, business law, public finance, history of economic thought, auditing, CPA review, and advanced monetary theory. In addition, he worked about 20 hours a week. Despite the overload, he earned an accumulative average of 8.1, which only about 2 per cent of the student body are capable of achieving.

After graduating from Dow City High School in 1951, Weed spent three years in the Marine Corps, then worked two years in Omaha. In 1956, he married Floy Baughman of Dow City, after she received her degree from State University of Iowa. A Phi Beta Kappa, she talked her husband into working toward a bachelor's degree, which he started in February, 1957.

Twenty-year-old Gale Sunderman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willard L. Sunderman, spent three years at the University. She also attended summer schools and carried an "overload."

A recipient of the Regents Scholarship for the three years, she worked from 15 to 20 hours a week. Her accumulative average is an 8.000 (nine is perfect).

She graduated from Omaha Central High School in 1955 and entered the University in 1956. While at the University, she was a member of Alpha Lambda Delta, honorary society for freshman women; and Pi Lambda Theta, honorary society for teachers.

Her reason for rushing through college is her planned marriage Aug. 8 to Lt. Henry Frost of Elkhorn, Neb. Those receiving their degrees with distinction Friday evening were:

Mrs. Dorothy Nobel Conger of North Platte, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nobel of Genoa, bachelor of science in education.

Mrs. Jean M. Rademacher of Lincoln, wife of Harold C. Rademacher, bachelor of science in education.

Mrs. Jane Ostlund Seaton of Rockford, Ill., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hildred M. T. Ostlund, bachelor of science in education.

Leo A. Tyrell of Peoria, son of Mrs. Sara Tyrell, bachelor of science in electrical engineering.

Mrs. Sherry Armstrong Witt of Sidney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Armstrong, bachelor of science in education.

Washington (AP)—A full-scale investigation of the foreign aid program in Viet Nam was proposed Friday at a Senate hearing on charges that the program is marked by waste and inefficiency.

Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore) accused the administration of withholding information he said was needed to evaluate foreign aid.

Several other members of a Senate foreign relations subcommittee, including chairman Mike Mansfield (D-Mont), suggested that a staff investigator may be sent to Saigon to check on charges that foreign aid in Viet Nam is "an outrageous scandal."

—$39 Billion Defense Money Bill OKd— ACCENT MISSILES

Rep. Weaver Unveils New Superhighway Finance Plan

NO WORK SLOWDOWN;
NO DEFICIT FINANCING

By Betty Person

Rep. Phil Weaver Friday revealed a new plan for financing the Interstate Highway which would not slow down construction on the superhighway, but would stretch the pay-out period without going into deficit financing.

Likening the plan to that used in financing reclamation programs, Weaver said the extended pay-out time would be accomplished by placing in the highway trust fund money borrowed from the general fund at appropriate interest.

The general fund would be repaid out of Interstate Highway user taxes which would be continued 2 or more years beyond the present cut-off date which is scheduled to come when the highway has been completed.

Letter To Quinn
The new plan was discussed in a letter written July 16 to John B. Quinn of Lincoln, executive vice chairman of the National Resources Development Association, which Weaver authorized to be released Friday.

Referring to a visit with Quinn in Washington, Weaver said in his letter, "I think there is a great deal of merit to the idea of lengthening the 'pay-out' time rather than by increasing the taxes to cover the deficits and the heavy expenditure period of the next two years."

"There would be no change in the present construction schedules so that the system

Interstate

would be completed on time," Weaver commented, adding that the new plan would, in addition, "avoid inflationary pressures" which would result from construction cut-backs.

Committee Plan
(The House Ways and Means Committee has approved a plan which calls for a slowdown in the current rate of construction by extending the highway's completion date 4 years to 1976. Current deficits in the highway trust fund would be relieved by borrowing $1 billion through revenue bonds to be placed in the fund.)

Queried for comment on this proposal, Weaver Friday called the "recommendation of the Democratic Party-controlled House Ways and Means Committee . . . preposterous."

He said the proposal to stretch out the construction program "can be properly described as the unemployment and business recession plan."

"When machines and laborers become idle," Weaver stated, "the blame must go to those who thus far have refused to compromise on finding a reasonable approach to go ahead because of politics."

'Immediately'
"As a part of the vital defense program and one also designed to save countless lives, a way must be found to proceed immediately and on schedule with the commitment of the Congress to the people and to the state governments," Weaver declared.

In his letter, the First District congressman said the proposal to increase taxes immediately to pay construction costs on a current basis now and for the next 2 or 3 years "is to assume that no one will use the highways once they are built."

"I think it is only logical to assume," he continued, "that these highways will be in use for years to come and can see no logical reason why those using the highways should not be willing to pay for them for several years after they are built."

Leave A Deficit
"The proposal to borrow from the general fund now and to limit the 'pay-out' period to the same length of time as the construction period would leave us at the end of that time faced with a deficit in the trust fund (equal to that current and anticipated) but with no means of repaying the borrowed money."

Weaver told Quinn he hoped some such proposal as that referred to in the letter "can be evolved to save the highway program without further delay."

Quinn said, "The letter speaks for itself and certainly I must express admiration for positiveness rather than the prevailing negative attitude."

Details Tightly Guarded Secret

More National Guard Manpower Demanded By Conferees

Washington (AP)—House and Senate conferees agreed Friday on a compromise $39.2 billion defense money bill which informed sources said contains funds for 170 to 200 ocean-spanning Atlas ballistic missiles.

Details on costs and numbers of the big missiles, now under test at Cape Canaveral, Fla., are tightly guarded secrets. Information on the number planned came from congressional sources familiar with terms of the big appropriation bill.

The committee which worked out a compromise of Senate and House versions also agreed on a direct mandate for more National Guard manpower but stopped short of that in dealing with the Marines and the Army Reserve.

The conferees accepted a Senate provision for nearly $100 million more than President Eisenhower asked to raise Marine Corps and Army Reserve strength above levels proposed by the administration.

Khrushchev Invitation Seen Soon
... U.S. Visit

Geneva (UPI) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev within the next few days may receive a formal invitation to visit the U.S.—something he always has wanted to do—western diplomatic sources said Friday.

The sources said such a trip could take place this fall. Khrushchev was said to have indicated his willingness to accept an invitation, although there undoubtedly would be an uproar in the U.S. over inviting the leader of the Communist world to Washington.

There was no official confirmation. But aides of Vice President Richard Nixon said in Moscow last Tuesday that as a result of Nixon's tour, they leaned to the idea of a Khrushchev visit as a possible means of reducing East-West tensions.

Khrushchev repeatedly has suggested that he and President Eisenhower exchange "useful" visits.

Nine U.S. state governors, Friday after a tour of Russia and a long talk with the Premier, said they favored the idea.

Such a visit by the head of the Soviet Union would present major problems, both diplomatically and the standpoint of protecting his person.

Many allied officials were uneasy about the idea of a two-power "backdoor summit" meeting which would involve Khrushchev and Eisenhower but not the other heads of government.

Some diplomats at the deadlocked Big 4 foreign ministers conference said they were awaiting a formal invitation to Khrushchev, possibly before Nixon left Russia Sunday after an 11-day tour of the country.

Each squadron can fire 9 missiles and has one extra in reserve. The Atlas is designed to rain nuclear warheads on an enemy up to 5,500 miles away.

Initial operational sites will be the Florida and Pacific missile testing ranges, with others to follow at Warren Air Force Base, near Cheyenne, Wyo., and later Offutt Air Force Base near Omaha, Neb.

The measure carries an extra 137 million for development of the Army's Nike Zeus, a missile planned to search out and destroy incoming enemy ballistic missiles.

Wind Belts Corn At North Bend

... Power Lines Snapped In Lincoln

A terrific rain, wind and hail storm whipped into the North Bend area Friday morning leaving a wide path of ruined corn and damage to trees in the area.

Hurricane-force winds estimated up to 80 to 100 m.p.h. ripped the roof off a produce house owned by Roy Helgenberger and broke many windows and tree limbs. Limbs across the tracks held up a train for more than 2 hours until crews could clear them.

The wind and 2.02 inches of rain which fell within a half hour left corn severely damaged.

High winds and a dust storm which swept through the Lincoln area Friday night left several areas of the city without electricity until power lines could be restored.

The cold front which accompanied the winds dropped the temperature 19 degrees from 85 at 11 a.m. to 66 at noon.

Consumers Public Power District reported there was no light for 30 minutes in the vicinity of 9th and K and on 13th between K and L and in the city's eastern business district.

In University Place, the City Light Department reports, there was one city block without light for about an hour. It was also reported that residents in south Lincoln had two minutes of darkness while a new power line was being installed.

2.47 Inches
Plattsmouth reported 2.47 inches of rain within about a half hour and Union reported 1.50 inches. High winds blew down a new grain elevator at Osceola.

Marble-size hail and strong winds accompanied the 1.28 inches of rain which fell at Dodge, Neb.

Army engineers said high winds blew down some forms at the Atlas missile base under construction at the Nebraska Ordnance Plant.

The forms were for a 20 by 50 foot wall of the operations building. Some concrete had been poured when the blast struck.

Showers
Partly cloudy skies with widely scattered showers and thunderstorms are predicted in the northeast with little change in other portions. Highs are expected to range between 85 and 95.

A state high of 98 was reported at Imperial Friday with a low of 61 reported at Norfolk.

ARMY GETS GO-AHEAD ON NIKES

... Lincoln Included

Washington (AP)—The Army has been authorized by the Defense Department to award contracts for construction of Nike-Hercules facilities at 9 Air Force bases, members of Congress were informed Friday.

Sen. Andrew F. Schoepel (R-Kan.) made public this list of bases involved:
Schilling, Salina, Kan.; Barksdale, Shreveport, La.; Dyess, Abilene, Tex.; Bergstrom, Austin, Tex.; Walker, Roswell, N.M.; Offutt, Omaha, Neb.; Warner Robins, Ga.; Lincoln, Neb.; and Turner, Albany, Ga.

Governor's Bid To Reconsider Lancaster Tax Action Downed

Equalization Board Vote Split Along Party Lines

By Betty Person
The State Board of Equalization Friday set the 1959 state levy with little debate, but there were plenty of fireworks at the meeting over Lancaster County's valuation on certain classes of property.

Gov. Ralph Brooks lit the fuse for the first blast when he asked for a motion to reconsider the Board's previous unanimous approval of Lancaster County's 15% cut in household goods, 10% reduction in business schedules, and 10% cut in farm machinery.

He lost the battle when the Board split along party lines with the 3 Republicans members voting in favor of the Lancaster County action, and the two Democrats voting against it.

Gage County originally had written a letter of protest declaring the cuts allowed by the Lancaster County Board of Equalization were "tampering" with the uniform valuations adopted by the 93 county assessors.

Approved
After a hearing with Lancaster and Gage County representatives, the Board unanimously approved Lancaster's action.

The Board then received two letters protesting its action, one from the statewide association of county assessors and the other from the southeast district association.

Again the Board voted unanimously to approve Lancaster County's action.

Brooks argued Friday that the Board's previous action "permitted Lancaster county to deviate from formulae adopted and employed by the 92 other county assessors in the State of Nebraska."

'Good Job'

State Tax Commissioner Fred Herrington argued that Lancaster County Assessor Arthur Davis, "who has done a good job," had nothing to do with the cuts which were ordered by the county board.

Noting that Lancaster County had hired 3 expert appraisers to study business schedule valuations this year, Herrington said he thought the county has done a "fine job" on business schedules in 1959.

Turning to household good valuations, Herrington said if Lancaster County were ordered to restore the 15% cut, it would be "almost as high as Douglas County which is twice the size of Lancaster County."

Herrington said he knew there was "more at stake than anybody may realize" and commented on the forward strides in valuation which have been made through the assessors' use of the valuation guide they adopt each year.

A Guide
But he stressed that it was a guide and had no legal standing, and also pointed out that the Board had no way of knowing that other counties were following the guide.

Herrington said, "Lancaster County proved to my satisfaction that they are higher than the complaining county (Gage) and many other counties."

Brooks persisted that the Board had "condoned a departure from uniformity of assessment" which "could have far-reaching consequences in other assessment years."

The governor asked if the Board believed in uniformity, to which Herrington replied, "Of course we do," but he noted that the Board had allowed Hamilton County to go down this year, as well as Gosper and Seward Counties. He also mentioned railroads.

When the vote was taken, Herrington, Johnson and Secretary of State Frank Marsh voted to let the former action stand, and Brooks and State Treasurer Richard Larsen voted against it.

Plattsmouth Dedicates New Dam

Lincoln Star Special

Plattsmouth, Neb. — Hill City Dam, the first of 10 earthen flood control dams planned to circle this community, was dedicated Friday night at services forced inside by heavy rains earlier in the day.

This dam and another were completed recently with a 3rd under construction.

When the $200,000 program is finished there will be 11 dams guarding the city from gully washer floods that have hit Plattsmouth many times in recent years.

Local interests raised about $50,000 of the cost and the federal government put up the balance.

Speaking at the ceremonies, attended by more than 100 persons, was Sen. Roman Hruska, who said Plattsmouth's contribution was sizeable and made this work a solid program in which local interests were taking steps to meet a share of the costs.

Soil Conservation Service officials estimate that floods have caused around $13,000 annual damage in Plattsmouth in recent years and Hruska commented there is not a foreseeable time when this damage will be at an end.

The Hill City title comes from Plattsmouth's nickname, "The Hill City." Future plans call for a Hill City Park to be located at the dam site.

Ships' Crash 'Unbelievable'

New York (UPI)—Two veteran harbor pilots used radar and fog whistles but one or both still misjudged the positions of the liner Queen Elizabeth and the freighter American Hunter before the collision, a Coast Guard inquiry was told.

Twelve pages of wholesome colored comics, feature stories with plenty of pictures and the big entertainment section are a few reasons why nearly everyone reads The Sunday Journal and Star.

$300,000 MORE FOR NEBRASKA

... Hospital Aid

Nebraska will have $300,000 more in 1959-60 Hill-Burton funds than was earlier estimated, because of the $4,016,101.981 appropriation for the Departments of Labor and Health, Education and Welfare.

State Health Department officials said the $1,874,384 announced as Nebraska's allocation is near the $1.8 million granted for 1958-59.

Approved projects recommended for funds amounted to an estimated $1,530,000 previously anticipated for 1959-60. The State Health Board left the door open, however, for other hospitals to receive priorities in case the appropriation was larger. The board agreed to call another meeting and consider applications on hospital projects which did not receive board priority in earlier action.

Brooks Puerto Rico Bound

... No Favorite Son

Gov. Ralph Brooks left Friday for San Juan, Puerto Rico where he will participate in the National Governors Conference which is held annually by the Council of State Governments.

The governor, accompanied by Mrs. Brooks and his secretary, Mrs. Evelyn O'Connor, was to fly by commercial airline to San Juan.

Brooks said he would meet with other midwestern governors to discuss farm problems as part of his agenda.

Just prior to their departure from Omaha, Brooks was questioned at an airport press conference about whether he would consider becoming a favorite son candidate in 1960.

"No," he replied, adding with a grin that he was considered a favorite son "by a lot of people, especially a senator from the western part of the state," which was a reference to his arch-critic Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff.

Korean Orphan Arrives

... Begins New Life

By George Moyer
Mary Katharine Waters was "born" in Lincoln Friday night. She was 8 months old.

Mary Katharine is a Korean orphan. Her new parents are Dr. and Mrs. Richard L. Waters of 6435 Y. She arrived in Lincoln from Creswell, Oregon at 10:35 p.m. Friday to start her life all over again.

Mr. and Mrs. Waters have been married 4 years. They have no other children. When they decided to adopt a child, they got in touch with Harry Holt of Oregon—a man whose work with Korean orphans they learned of through newspapers and magazines.

TV Drama

Holt, whose work has been the subject of a television drama, operates an orphanage near Seoul, Korea. Korean victims of starvation or poverty bring their children to the orphanage in the hope that they will find a better life elsewhere.

"They bring in the girls—Oriental custom makes a family hold onto the boys as long as possible," Mrs. Waters said.

Holt then brings the children to the United States when they are adopted. The new parents pay the cost of their passage. Handicapped children Holt brings in with his own money.

Opposition

"We think he has done a tremendous thing. He has had some opposition—most of it of the selfish kind," Mrs. Waters said.

"But we are genuinely grateful to him," she added. And how about Mary Katharine—a young lady whose leaving a war-battered, poverty-stricken country for one of plenty amounts to being born again?

"She slept all the way in on the plane, but she's awake and getting fed right now, and we're awfully pleased and happy," Mrs. Waters said.

Homesick

Richmond, Va. (AP)—The defendant told Judge Harold C. Maurice he was lost and pulled a fire box alarm so he could find his way home. The judge expressed sympathy, but fined him $100.

Year's Leave From NU To Dr. Miller

Dr. Dwight D. Miller, professor of zoology at the University of Nebraska, was granted a year's leave of absence Friday to accept a position as program director of genetics for the National Science Foundation.

His leave, announced by Chancellor Clifford Hardin, is effective Sept. 1.

Dr. Miller will handle and review all grants for research in genetics in his new position.

He also will make site investigations of laboratories and serve in a liaison capacity between the foundation and other governmental agencies.

He will be headquartered in Washington, D. C.

Chancellor Hardin also announced the appointment of R. June Ericson, assistant professor of home economics, from Indiana University; Kenneth L. Fitch, assistant professor of anatomy, from University of Missouri; Robert W. Filbeck, assistant professor of education psychology and measurements, from Central Missouri State College.

Two Women Hospitalized After Crash

Two Lincoln women were hospitalized at St. Elizabeth Hospital with injuries suffered in an early-morning auto crash at 14th and G Friday.

Hospitalized with a collapsed lung, broken ribs, broken nose, facial cuts and bruises and described as being in "fair" condition was Mrs. Anna Barney, 71, of 3750 Summer.

A passenger in the car driven by Mrs. Barney, police said was Mrs. Grace Wessel, 57, of 1833 G. Described in "good" condition, she suffered a cut on the left forehead and a bruised left wrist.

Driver of the other car involved was Peter Reis, 77, of 112 C, police said. He was uninjured.

Ex-Lincoln Man Falls To Death

Lake Tahoe, Calif. (AP)—A former Lincoln, Neb., man has been killed in a mountain fall.

Richard Dobson, 21, Visalia, was climbing high above Lake Tahoe on his day off from busboy duties at a lakeside resort when he fell 200 feet to his death.

Investigating officers said Dobson was climbing near Highway 89 with 4 friends from Lake Tahoe when he slipped from a ledge.

Labor Bill Reported To House

Washington (AP)—The House Labor Committee formally reported to the House Friday a labor controls bill shunned by a majority of the committee.

Only five of the 30 members had a kind word to say for it. The others, including Chairman Graham A. Barden (D-NC), either denounced it or looked down their nose at it.

Barden said in a statement that he voted for the measure only "to get a bill to the floor of the House."

The bill, he said, fails to correct abuses uncovered by the Senate Rackets Committee. He voiced hope Congress "will enact effective labor reform legislation."

The endorsement came from Reps. Carl Elliott (Ala.), Edith Green (Ore.), Frank Thompson Jr. (N.J.), Stewart L. Udall (Ariz.) and James G. O'Hara (Mich.). All are democrats and self-styled "middle grounders" in the legislative tug-of-war.

Ashland Royalty Crowned

Lincoln Star Special

Ashland, Neb. — Forrest L. Raikes, longtime Ashland businessman, and Mrs. Harry Bricker, farm woman from south of Ashland who has been active in Ashland's civic, church and club activities, were revealed Friday night as the king and queen of the 1959 Ashland Stir-Up.

Crowned by last year's king and queen, Dr. B. H. Baer and Mrs. E. A. Fricke, Raikes and Mrs. Bricker will reign as the 11th annual Stir-Up royalty. The ceremony, which also included the presentation of 85 princes and princesses selected from 12 neighboring communities, was witnessed by 3,000 spectators.

Women's Club

This 21st annual Stir-Up, lasting through Saturday, was planned and sponsored by the Ashland Jr. Women's Club.

Saturday activities include a pre-midnight baseball game and a flower show. A community breakfast, livestock show, and parade for the youngsters were held Friday. The firemen's dance on Saturday night will conclude the two-day celebration.

Way Opens To Fresh Thinking

Certainly Vice President Richard Nixon has enhanced his political position by his words and actions in Russia. And in many respects his visit together with those taken by other prominent Americans serves to break down the artificial tensions between the Russians and the Americans. However the event serves Mr. Nixon's political future, there will be a net gain in understanding between the two countries. It is getting increasingly difficult for headstrong leaders to toy with the idea of a nuclear war.

This is probably the great net gain, for otherwise the old forces in the relationship are breaking down under the pressure of change. And this carries the element of danger.

While the Nixon visit is dominating the news it is significant that the ministers conference over Berlin is reaching a second dead end. And an examination of NATO reveals that it is declining to a shadow. Meanwhile, the sharp ultimatum from Moscow over Berlin is feathering out the process of postponement.

It all indicates that it is time to re-approach the question of East West relations—a time for new and creative thinking.

If the reliable instruments which earlier restrained Russia are becoming anachronisms, it is to be noted the Russian machinations to extend communism into new areas have likewise similarly undergone a dulling. Nowhere is it more evident than in the Near East where local nationalism is again emerging and the communist appeal is losing such gains as it made.

The significance of all this should not be lost on this country and the Nixon visit will serve a permanent good if it results in a new diplomatic approach.

Education In Less Time

The medical school at Boston University is preparing to reduce the time of its education of physicians from eight to six years. Its plan would reduce time but add learning.

After two years of intensive study the university concluded it could integrate the student's academic and professional education giving them concurrently. A generally accepted program now is to devote the student's early years to premedical and academic studies and then proceed in his final years to the exclusive study of medical science.

The Boston University plan would maintain both an academic faculty and a science faculty and combine them with the British tutorial system. This would assign small groups of students to a teacher under the less formal conditions than one finds in the lecture room.

Inter-American Bank

From The New York Times

There can be nothing but pleasure and satisfaction throughout the Western Hemisphere at the passage by Congress of the bill arranging for United States participation in an Inter-American Development Bank. President Eisenhower is strongly in favor of this billion-dollar institution, to which the United States will contribute $450,000,000.

The idea of the bank is to supplement other international banking institution in providing funds for developing basic industries, public utilities and agricultural projects. Representative Gross of Iowa, who led the minority group opposing the bill, was living in the past. He put up the old and now discredited argument that there are already enough international and private lending agencies to take care of Latin-American needs. This was the argument determinedly held by Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey and sustained by his successor, Secretary Anderson, as late as the Buenos Aires conference in August, 1957.

Nine months later came the Nixon trip to South America which shocked the United States into a realization that strictly orthodox banking practices could exact a political price much more costly than the dollars that might be lost or risked if Latin-American realities were accepted. This is a region going through an explosive industrial revolution without enough investment capital, or managerial skills, or a worker-psychology geared to ever higher production, or a diversified economic structure. The chronic political instability encourages inflationary policies and discourages austerity and stabilization.

Such a climate requires economic and financial flexibility, not strict orthodoxy and not, of course, profligacy. It needs long-range investment for broad projects of development for specific, carefully planned projects that the American investor normally demands.

Latin America is a great, rich, expanding market. There is every reason to believe that investment in the region will pay off in the long run in every sense. This is where the Inter-American Development Bank comes in.

Big Ed Johnson For Third League

WASHINGTON — Big Ed Johnson, who used to fire locomotives on the Union Pacific between western Kansas and Denver, took an airplane down to Washington from New York the other day to testify against baseball monopoly.

Big Ed felt right at home going back to Washington. He spent eighteen years of his life there as U.S. senator from Colorado—about as many years as he spent as a railroad laborer on the Union Pacific, then telegrapher, then train dispatcher and locomotive fireman. He also has felt at home in the state house in Denver, having served two terms as governor and four terms in the Colorado legislature.

But Big Ed didn't feel much at home in an airplane. You could tell that by the way he tried to stuff an unwieldy brief case under the seat in front of him. Instead of beneath him. As a result, he couldn't stretch his legs. And when you're six feet four you need to stretch.

However, airplanes have revolutionized baseball. Ed Johnson confided to me. And that is one reason he is crusading for another baseball league. Even when Big Ed served in the U.S. Senate, he was president of the West Coast Baseball League. Now that he's retired from active politics at the age of 75, he's giving all his time to baseball.

"San Juan, Puerto Rico, is baseball crazy," he explained. "And they want to be part of our new big league. With airplane transportation you can get to San Juan just as easy as Los Angeles and San Francisco. The major ball teams have their own airplanes now."

"But our chief problem is the baseball monopoly," continued the man who is trying to break it. "That's why I'm going to Washington to testify before Senator Kefauver's anti-monopoly committee. The two major leagues don't want a rival, and especially the major ball clubs don't want to give up their monopoly on players they don't need."

"Some of the clubs have 400 players under contract, each. Every May 20 they cut down their actual team to 25 men, but they keep 400 under contract just to keep them from getting into the hands of other rival clubs."

Big Ed pulled a rule book of the major leagues out of his brief case and turned to Rule 2. It read:

"Since the supply of skilled players is not equal to the demand, the major league clubs shall not have title to more than forty (40) player contracts at any time."

"That's their own rule," continued the ex-senator from Colorado, "but they don't live up to it. And when they keep 400 players under contract in order to prevent other clubs from using them, that's monopoly."

I asked how many players the Washington Senators had under contract.

"That's one of the poorer clubs. I think Griffith has about 150. However, the St. Louis Cardinals right now have 435 players under contract."

"What happened to your Western Baseball League?" I asked the man who had been its president.

"The majors put us out of business. They just told us we couldn't have any more players, and that was that. We couldn't operate any more. However," said the man who so long was a power in the U.S. Senate, "I believe Estes Kefauver now has 'em on the run and the prospect of a third major league will break up the player monopoly."

Differences May Kill Labor Bill

WASHINGTON—The harshest political battle in recent history is taking place on the labor bill, which is shortly to reach the House floor.

Speaker Sam Rayburn is leading the fight for the compromise measure hammered out by the House Education and Labor Committee. Against him is arrayed the full power of the White House, with Republican Leader Charles Halleck as its spokesman, in a smooth coalition with southern conservatives marshaled by Representative Howard Smith of Virginia.

Later, it should be possible to determine whether the quid pro quo for the Southerners is a civil rights bill consisting mainly of conversation. But the coalition has never appeared more self-confident.

In a sense, the battle is joined between Rayburn and Smith, for it is upon the votes of a handful of Southerners that the House outcome will depend.

Yet that group will not constitute the balance of power on the question of whether there is or is not going to be a labor bill. That unhappy distinction will almost surely fall to a few senators should the coalition prevail and send its own version to a conference with the Senate.

This is because the Senate overwhelmingly approved a bill milder than the House compromise and very different in spirit from the coalition product. But the House conferees will be headed by Representative Graham Barden of North Carolina, chairman of the House Labor Committee, a conservative whose choice historically has been all or nothing in labor matters.

There is not the slightest doubt on the part of those who tenaciously worked out a House compromise between the Senate bill and the coalition's proposals that Barden would refuse to yield on any point. He has so refused on similar occasions.

But the Senate conferees are expected to include Senators John Kennedy, Wayne Morse and Patrick McNamara, none of them ultimatum-prone. Except for Teamsters boss James Hoffa—another all-or-nothing operator—labor generally supports these senators. By conviction and self-interest, they would inevitably stand firm against Barden.

The inevitable result would be that no labor bill could be enacted at this session for the President's signature.

A THOUGHT FOR THE SABBATH

Stories Of Famous Hymns

In The Cross Of Christ I Glory

In the Cross of Christ I glory,
Towering o'er the wrecks of time;
All the light of sacred glory
Gathers round its head sublime.

When the woes of life o'ertake me,
Hopes deceive and fears annoy,
Never shall the Cross forsake me;
Lo! it glows with peace and joy.

When the sun of bliss is beaming
Light and love upon my way,
From the Cross the radiance streaming
Adds new lustre to the day.

Bane and blessing, pain and pleasure,
By the Cross are sanctified;
Peace is there that knows no measure,
Joys that through all time abide.

By HORACE B. POWELL

Sir John Bowring was inspired to write his beautiful hymn-poem while traveling in the Orient. As consul general for the English government at Hongkong he sailed one day down the Chinese coast to Macao, where several centuries earlier Catholic missionaries and native Christians had erected a stately cathedral on a high point overlooking the sea. Many years before Bowring's visit a hurricane had collapsed the beautiful church, but the cathedral tower surmounted by its triumphant cross, was still standing. Silhouetted against the sky far above, the wreckage strewn about on the shore below, the cross seemed to the hymnist to typify destruction. To him, as he gazed skyward, it seemed to give testimony to the eternal nature of spiritual things. Within a few minutes he dashed off the stanzas which ever since have been so precious to hymn lovers.

Sir John was a distinguished linguist as well as a statesman and hymn writer. It is said that he was able to converse fluently in 22 different languages.

MARQUIS CHILDS

Return Visit Would Enhance Nixon

WASHINGTON — Nikita Khrushchev will visit the United States by the end of the year.

This is the "educated guess" of a high official with access to major policy decisions. It is based on the understanding that if Vice-President Richard M. Nixon did not actually invite Khrushchev to come to this country, he made it plain that sooner or later such an invitation would be forthcoming.

Nixon will recommend to President Eisenhower that the irrepressible Khrushchev come over to see at first-hand America's industrial strength and high standard of living. While the President, at his press conference, was reluctant to talk about a Khrushchev tour, this is likely to be the principal result of the vice-president's mission to the Soviet Union.

The Soviet premier and the American President would have a long and frank get-together, probably at the Eisenhower farm at Gettysburg, where they could be assured of the greatest seclusion. Nixon would be expected to sit in on the Gettysburg talks.

Then, quite possibly, the vice-president would accompany Khrushchev on at least a part of his tour of the United States. The fact that Deputy Premier Frol R. Kozlov, Nixon's opposite number, accompanied the Nixon on the first stage of their Russian journey is taken as a precedent. With Nixon at Khrushchev's side, the problem of security would not be so great and hostile demonstrators would be less likely to turn out if the vice-president were the Soviet premier's sponsor.

From the political angle, Nixon would stand to gain at least as much as he has from his Soviet tour, and that is saying a lot. He would be the proud American showing the glories of his own country to its chief critic and opponent. Hardly any imagination at all is required to see the newsreel and television possibilities in such a tour — Nixon and Khrushchev in one of the big Detroit auto plants, Nixon and Khrushchev on a mechanized farm, Nixon and Khrushchev amidst the splendors of California.

Nor would Nixon in such a role risk the danger of being labeled pro-Communist. His background as a fervent enemy of Communism, established in the Alger Hiss case, is too solid for that. That is one of his great advantages in the current maneuver which can mean so much to him politically and, incidentally, perhaps so much for the peace of the world.

There are reasons in practical statecraft why a Khrushchev visit to the United States might serve as an extremely useful holding operation. The chance of a compromise coming out of the Geneva foreign ministers' talks still exists. But what with the Eisenhower "won't-budge-an-inch" position and the Russian insistence that a term must be set for western troops in West Berlin, the chance is small.

A breakoff, either with or without the polite disguise of a recess, might precipitate the long-threatened Soviet move to turn power over to the East Germans.

But if, under such circumstances, a trip to America were in the offing, the likelihood is that Khrushchev would hold off at least until the President and the Soviet premier had sat down together.

This would be no substitute for the summit conference which the British are bent on having. Under the shrewd leadership of Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, the conservatives have an excellent chance to win the election in October and thereby break the century-old precedent that no party has been returned to power three times in succession. If, however, it should appear that the United States, by siding with West Germany and France, had prevented a summit, the conservatives' chances would be dimmed.

Out of a meeting between

Khrushchev and Eisenhower could come an agreement for a summit conference next spring. That would be still another postponement of the time for decision. In 1955, it was the prospect of a summit that made it possible for the conservatives to campaign on a platform of peace and thereby win a smashing victory.

Any one of a number of accidents could abruptly alter the hopeful picture that Nixon has projected through his visit. But the chain of consequences set in motion by the Nixon visit will be difficult to arrest. And the vice president wanted it this way.

He is unquestionably the foremost contender for the Republican nomination for president with the backing of most Republicans and particularly the conservative wing of his party. It is a combination that, in the circumstances of the cold war and the necessity to negotiate on the major issues, gives Nixon a powerful position.

Construction Activity $2.6 Million Ahead Of 1958

By Virgil Falloon

Lincoln construction activity reached $1,716,316 during July as the 1959 building pace continued nearly $2.6 million ahead of 1958.

July building permits swelled the 1959 total thus far to $10,665,144 as compared with $8,068,966 to date last year.

City Building Inspector Ed Vorhees' office also said July residential starts total 103 homes, two duplexes, and two 6-plexes, or a total of 122 living units.

This brought the living-unit total to 669 through June as compared with 368 a year ago. The 7-month total was also well within range of the all-year totals of 700 units for 1958 and 1957.

$1.2 Million

New homes started in July totaled $1,200,753, according to permits.

Major non-residential construction included St. John's Catholic Church and Elementary School, 7601 Vine, $146,000; grocery store at 3534 So. 48th, $70,000, and store-office addition to the M. J. Messer building at 1955 O, $54,000.

The comparable monthly breakdown of new construction totals and number of new residential units (shown in parenthesis) is:

Swingle Workers Reject Union Representation

Two groups of workers of the C. W. Swingle & Co., Ltd. plant voted against representation by the Teamsters and AFL-CIO Meat Cutters Union as bargaining agent in National Labor Relations Board elections.

Truck drivers of the Swingle Co. voted 9 to 1 against representation by the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, Chauffeurs, Warehousemen and Helpers of America Local 608.

Production and maintenance workers voted 10 to 3 against being represented by the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen of North America (AFL-CIO) District Union 271.

The plant's first NLRB elections were held under the direction of David Kramer of Kansas City, attorney of the NLRB.

Lincoln attorney Taylor Greer represented the company in the negotiations.

NU Graduate; Radio Exec River's Victim

Pittsburgh (UPI) — Edward C. Horstman, 51, business manager and director of engineering at educational television station WQED drowned early Friday while taking a "last swim" after a happy outing on the Allegheny River.

A graduate of the University of Nebraska, Horstman was associated with the National Broadcasting Co. and then the American Broadcasting Co. at Chicago before coming here in 1953. He had been general manager of ABC at Chicago.

Horstman had gone on the cruise with John F. White, New York, former general manager of WQED, and Warren Smith, Pittsford, Pa., president of an animated movie production firm, and their wives.

White, now president of National Educational TV and Radio Center, New York, said he believed Horstman may have suffered a heart attack.

"He just disappeared, not 20 feet from the boat," White said.

Royal Tour Ends Today

Hahfax, Nova Scotia (UPI) — Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip arrived here late Friday for a 30-hour visit which will close the Canadian royal tour.

The royal couple will fly home Saturday night.

Elgin Decision Is Postponed

The University of Nebraska Board of Regents cancelled a meeting Friday because a quorum was not present, Chancellor Clifford Hardin said.

The postponement will delay discussion of suggested uses of the Elgin building. No new meeting date has been set.

TRINITY LUTHERAN CHURCH TOWER RAZED

Several members of Trinity Lutheran Church, who were present 55 years ago for the dedication of the Trinity Lutheran Church at 13th and H, were also present to see the spire which had towered above Lincoln's horizon since 1904 fall and bury its cross in the ground. The bricks (made by Yankee Hill Brick Co.) in the more-than-100 foot tower, were some of the first to be killed in Lincoln. The cornerstone of the old church will be opened in September. A new church, located at 12th and H, was dedicated in March of 1953 and has been used by the congregation since. The razing of the church and the teacherage have been in progress for some weeks. ## Convict Finds 'Special Field' ... Children's Games

Columbus, O. (AP) — An Ohio penitentiary inmate, a 38-year-old robber who has spent 18 years behind bars, has found new hope and a new life in children's games.

Roy Weightman, who is serving a 10-to-25-year sentence for armed robbery, has developed 13 games. Five are being manufactured by a Connecticut firm and will be on the market next Christmas.

The slim, swarthy convict is happy and confident about the future.

"This is going to set me straight. It's a whole new life for me. A guy searches and searches to find his own special field. I've found mine."

The 5 games scheduled to be on toyshop shelves in a few months are "Spellaine," "Rocket to the Moon," "Hot Rod Racers," "Spin and Sink" and "World Animal Hunt."

LONG DISTANCE REDUCTIONS SET

Washington (AP) — American Telephone & Telegraph Co. has notified the Federal Communications Commission its scheduled $50-million-a-year reduction in interstate long distance telephone rates will be launched in mid-September with cuts on calls above 463 miles.

The commission, which ordered the reduction last week, said there will be no change in the charges for interstate calls of shorter distance and no cut is contemplated on the initial 3 minutes of any person-to-person call.

The principal cut will be made in the initial 3 minutes of station-to-station calls between 676 and 3,000 miles. These will range from 5c for the lesser distances up to 25c for the greater distances, and will apply to day, night and Sunday rates.

Nice Kitten—We Hope

Montclair, N.J. (AP) — Miss Marcel Hight's extravagant tastes include more than simply a Jaguar sports car. Her motoring companion is a 6-foot cheetah that cost her $1,200 in a pet shop.

$10,000 Robbery At Omaha ... Union Funds

Omaha (AP) — An armed bandit robbed a labor union employee of $10,000 in cash and checks Friday afternoon at the rear of the union headquarters.

Two thousand dollars of the total was in cash.

Kenneth Gibley, bookkeeper for Laborer's Union 1140, was held up as he stepped into his car to go to the bank. Two robbers took the week's receipts of the union.

Gibley said the armed bandit wore a handkerchief over the lower portion of his face and mirror type glasses.

The bandit and a companion, also masked, drove away in a car which later was found.

Box Dweller Behind Bars ... Filched A Shirt

St. Louis (AP) — A self-styled "loner" whose home for the last year has been an 8-foot long box is now in a 10-foot long jail cell charged with shoplifting.

Henry Arthur Williams, 56, was caught wearing a shirt stolen from a downtown department store.

Williams admitted filching the shirt.

He then led detectives to an 8x3x3-foot box under the Eads Bridge and said, "That's my home." He said he left it frequently to go shoplifting for pocket money. Detectives agreed that the city-owned storage box had a lived-in look.

"I've had kind of a lonely life," he added. "I'm looking forward to something better."

He said he lost jobs in New Orleans and Houston, Tex., because "I just sort of tightened up."

Why did he live in the wooden box?

"It seems," Williams said. "I've been out of stride all the time with people, never in any social circle at all."

British Printers Strike Is Settled

London (AP) — A settlement has been reached in the printers' strike that has shut down 1,000 British provincial newspapers, and paralyzed another 4,000 printing firms for the past 7 weeks.

Union officials agreed to send 100,000 striking printers back to work next mid-week.

The printers had marched off the job demanding a 10% wage increase and a 40-hour work week instead of the present 43½ hours.

Under the agreement with the employers they go back for a 3-year period with a 1½% raise and a 42-hour week.

City Probes Possibility Of Full-Time Traffic Engineer

The possibility of a full-time traffic engineer for Lincoln is under study even though no money has been appropriated in the 1959-60 city budget so far.

Mayor Pat Boyles said he has requested several city departments to furnish figures on the money they spend each year on traffic engineering.

"We may have enough money in the different departments to get such a man," Boyles said. "However, I haven't gone into the full details myself or with the Council."

The advisability of a full-time traffic engineer has been advanced recently and in past years by several sources.

Safety

Most recently, Hal Kent of the National Safety Council recommended a full-time engineer vested with sufficient authority to insure appropriate application of engineering techniques for traffic operation and safety.

Presently, 8 agencies and city officials advise the City Council on street and traffic problems.

Harland Bartholomew & Associates, planning consultants to Lincoln, recommended a full-time traffic engineer in 1956, pointing out "there are many fingers in the pie" and a problem of leadership and co-ordination.

The city legal department has said the Council has the power to create such offices as it deems necessary for efficient management.

—STEEL STRIKE— TALKS RECESS FOR WEEKEND

New York (AP) — Efforts to settle the 16-day nationwide steel strike halted for the weekend Friday without sign of progress.

Representatives of the industry and the Steelworkers Union will meet jointly with federal mediators Monday afternoon in the second such joint session since the walk-out began.

Joseph Finnegan, national director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, has been conferring with both sides separately in search of a solution. He met for more than two hours Friday with union officials.

Time Short For Airport Project OK's

$1.5 Million Granted

Nebraska cities are eligible for $1,518,026 federal aid for airports in 1960 and 1961, but their projects must be presented to the state Aeronautics Commission for approval in just 2½ weeks.

Jack D. Obbink, Nebraska director of aeronautics, said Friday the Federal Aviation Agency has set a Sept. 1 deadline on applications from states.

To meet it, the state Aeronautics Commission will meet Aug. 19 to receive project plans from an expected 10 to 12 Nebraska cities, including Lincoln and Omaha.

Some Difficulty

He expected the deadline would be met, but with some difficulty because of the shortage of time.

The state must approve the plans to make them eligible for federal funds.

The state's share of Congress' $126,000,000 appropriation for the two years is $1,518,026. Three-fourths of the appropriation is divided among states according to area and population, and 25% is administered by the FAA as "discretionary funds."

Obbink said the state may also be eligible for certain amounts of the "discretionary" funds in addition to the $1,518,026.

Cities applying for federal funds will probably also apply for state construction funds, he said. The state in the past has paid up to 25% on certain airport projects.

The state money comes from aviation fuel taxes.

W. J. Kreuscher, state airport engineer, said requests are expected to exceed the federal apportionment this year for the first time since 1949.

Small Amount Lost

The funds may be used at any time during two years after the grant. A small amount has been lost in the past through lack of projects that qualified, he said.

The funds are generally limited to airport facilities related to the flying operation of aircraft only, especially safety items.

Priorities for the funds are assigned by the FAA.

Lincoln bank clearings for the first seven months of 1959 showed an increase of $34,572,824.76 over the corresponding period last year.

The comparative figures:
Jan.-July 31 '59 $361,149,154.15
Jan.-July 31 '58 $326,576,329.39

A gain of $7,907,680.33 was shown in the clearings for July, 1959 compared with the same month last year.

The totals:
July '59 $55,508,746.41
July '58 $47,601,066.08

The clearings in June, 1959 were $51,617,366.49.

License Lost Under New Consent Law

State Motor Vehicles Director Al Scissors revoked another driver's license for one year under the new implied consent law.

The license of Raymond Meints, 20, Cortland, was revoked after Meints refused to submit to a chemical test of his blood or urine to determine if he had been driving under the influence of alcohol when he was arrested by a state trooper.

Meints is the second to have his license suspended under the implied consent law passed by the 1959 Legislature at the urging of Governor Brooks.

Scissors continued until Aug. 27 a hearing for Winfield P. Christie, 55, Alliance, who also had refused a test.

Both cases were heard Friday.

In addition, Scissors has scheduled 3 other hearings for Aug. 14 and 3 for Aug. 17 and has another to set. All drivers had refused to consent to the chemical tests.

Friendship Film

London (AP) — Moscow Radio reports Soviet film Director Grigory Alexandrov is making a film called "Souvenir," with coexistence and international friendship as its theme. It will take a group of foreigners on tour, starting with shots taken in the Kremlin and at the Moscow economic exhibition.

Aristeguieta said the treaty was signed by the U.S. and Venezuela in Caracas Jan. 19, 1922.

"It provides for the extradition of any person who has committed a theft of more than $200. We are sure this treaty will cover his case."

Dear Abby . . .

Don't Believe It, Honey!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have been a widow for 17 years. My children are married and gone. A man who recently lost his wife asked me to a Drive-In movie. He slipped his arm around the back of my chair. I shook so bad my teeth chattered. Then he kissed me. It had been 17 years since I was kissed by a man and I'm afraid I wasn't very responsive. I held back quite a bit. Then he said he had been married to a frigid woman for 22 years and didn't intend to get stuck with another one. I know he would be interested in me if I could show him I really wasn't frigid. But how can I do this, Abby, and still be a lady? I am lonesome, so please don't tell me to forget him.

LILLIAN

DEAR LILLIAN: This man's line is as old as the hills. A woman who gives too generous a sample of her "wares" is apt to end up with no sale. Be a "lady," and if he's a gentleman, he'll be patient.

DEAR ABBY: Either my husband is crazy or I am, and I have to know which of us is. I never looked at another man before I was married or after, but he accuses me of all the things he can think of. If I don't take one of the kids with me when I go shopping he says I am going to meet another man. He tells me he is sure our last baby is not his and he asks the little boy not to call him "Daddy." I know it's hard to believe, but he is a real good husband (hasn't missed a day's work in 16 years) goes to church, and is good to the kids, all except the little one, but what makes him so jealous and suspicious? Is there a cure for it?

DEAR END: Jealousy is a sickness of the mind. Try to get your husband to see a doctor who deals with mental and emotional illnesses.

DEAR ABBY: I am a young widow who has a nice business which my husband left me. All my friends warn me to watch out for men who are interested in marrying me for my money.

I have met a few men who seem interested in me for myself, but how can you tell? My friends say it would be foolish of me to waste my time with a man who has less in assets than I have. I can't ask a man for an accounting of his assets, can I? I know one man in particular whom I suspect doesn't have as much as I have, but I like him. I am lonesome but I don't have to buy a man yet. What is a woman in my position supposed to do?

STELLA

DEAR STELLA: Look for a man who is decent, treats you right and is good company. If you reach the point in your relationship where marriage is discussed, lay your cards on the table and ask him to do likewise. If he couldn't possibly marry you without your money, then you can safely assume that your "assets" created his urge to merge.

If you have a problem, write to Abigail Van Buren in care of this paper. She will be glad to answer your letter. For a personal reply, enclose a self-addressed envelope.

A Variety Of Activity In Suburbia

PARK MANOR

Learned that former Park Manor residents, Capt. and Mrs. Everett W. Terry and their children, Kathy, Kenneth and Tom, have been in town for a short visit. The Terry family visited at the home of Capt. and Mrs. Floyd Hibdon.

On Thursday evening Capt. and Mrs. Terry were honored at an informal party at the Officers Club, and last night nine suburban couples entertained the family at a no-host picnic supper held at Roberts Park.

The Terrys will leave Lincoln this morning for their home in Columbus, O.

Joining the bassinet brigade last week was Donald T. Pierson, son of Capt. and Mrs. Frederick Pierson, who arrived at St. Elizabeth Hospital on Tuesday, July 21.

Capt. and Mrs. Pierson have three other sons, Fred, Jr., Mike and Lee.

Donald's paternal grandmother, Mrs. A. R. Pierson, and his great aunt, Miss Elsie Reuel, both of Galveston, Tex., are guests at the Pierson home, and his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Norris, also of Galveston, are expected for a visit late this fall.

A birthday celebrant on Wednesday, July 29, was Miss Paula Ecelbarger, daughter of Maj. and Mrs. Paul Ecelbarger. In honor of her 13th anniversary, Paula entertained Miss Susan Hotvedt, Miss Bonnie Burrell and Miss Cheryl Dean at her home on Thursday afternoon.

Mention of the Ecelbargers reminds us that they were the dinner guests of Lt. Col. and Mrs. J.R. Pannell and their family on Wednesday evening.

The early evening hours were spent at Bowling Lake where the Pannells "aided and abetted" the Ecelbargers in their first attempt at water skiing.

Heard that Kathy Dworak, daughter of Dr. and Mrs.

—The cool breeze that arrived to delight the Lincoln populace brought with it news of more guests, more travelers, and more parties which involve the week end, and the days to come.

First we learned that Miss Ann Bradley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Bradley of Des Moines, formerly of Lincoln, will be arriving on Sunday evening to be the guest of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd True. The young visitor will be joined here next Friday by her parents, and her brother and sister, Brad and Kay, who will spend a week as the guests of Mrs. Bradley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. True.

—Then we learned that Dr. and Mrs. Robert Drake of Nashville, Tenn., are in town —the guests of Dr. Drake's sister-in-law, Mrs. Marlin K. Drake. Dr. and Mrs. Drake, for whom several courtesies have been given, will leave this week end for Broken Bow, but will return to Lincoln for another visit before going on to Nashville.

Mrs. Drake will be remembered by Tri-Delta alumnae as the former Helen Young who, of course, was a member of Delta Delta Delta at Nebraska. Dr. Drake, also an alumnus of Nebraska, is a member of Kappa Sigma.

—Understand that Mrs. Charles Dugdale of San Francisco is spending several days in Lincoln, and that although she is visiting her mother, Mrs. Irene Mickey, she is making Hotel Cornhusker her headquarters. On Monday the visitor will be joined by Mr. Dugdale who is spending the week end with his parents in Omaha, and on Monday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Dugdale will hold open house at Hotel Cornhusker. All of their friends and former neighbors are invited to call between the hours of 1 o'clock and 6 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Dugdale (she was Jeannette Mickey, Delta Delta Delta at NU), who stopped off in Lincoln en route to their home from New York City, are former residents of Lincoln where Mr. Dugdale was associated with KFOR and KOLN-TV.

—Someone told us that Miss Judy Decker, whose marriage to Roger Khrounek takes place next Saturday, will be a luncheon hostess at Tillman's Plaza today when she entertains her attendants. The guests will include Mrs. James Harvey of Wausau, Wis., who will be her sister's matron of honor; Miss Jane Curfman of Rockport, Mo., and Miss Jean Sell, the bridesmaids; and Miss Patricia Arbuthnot of Omaha, and Miss Barbara Arth, who will light the candles. We learned that Elwyn Khrounek will serve his brother as best man, and that the ushers would include Thomas Miller, James O'Halloran and James Harvey.

Hostesses At 'Sayonara' Coffee

Mrs. Robert Dittmar, Mrs. Donald Hesse and Mrs. Bruce Mills were hostesses on Friday at a "Sayonara" farewell coffee held at the Officers Club. An oriental theme was carried out in the decorations for the affair, and invitations were extended to 130 guests.

Both Mrs. Hesse and Mrs. Dittmar will soon be moving from Lincoln as Capt. Dittmar will be attending advanced meteorology school at Florida State University in Tallahassee, and Capt. Hesse will have as his new duty station Sheppard Air Force Base in Wichita Falls, Tex.

PATRICIAN HEIGHTS

Mrs. Albert Priess and Mrs. Dan Holmstedt were hostesses on Thursday morning, July 30, at a brunch held at the Holmstedt home.

Included among the guests on hand for the 10:15 o'clock affair were Mrs. John Bucy, Mrs. William Reiley, Mrs. Roland Roessler, Mrs. Willis Gordon and Mrs. Merle Giebenrath. An unexpected guest was Mr. Holmstedt, who, as he was home on vacation, was persuaded to join the group in a cup of coffee.

EASTRIDGE

A look at our birthday book tells us that Steve Manning, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Manning, celebrated his eighth anniversary Thursday afternoon. A group of his friends joined him at his home for lunch and then for an afternoon of swimming.

Included in the group were Jimmy Gordon, Billy Kinsey, Greg Neylon, Kirk and Bruce Bowers, Donnie Stockholm, Danny Head, Bobby Griess, and Mike Michele, and Stephanie Manning.

Courtesy For Soon-To-Be Bride

In pre-nuptial courtesy to Miss Kay Ulrich, whose marriage to Kenneth Metzger will take place on Aug. 22, Miss Beverly Hogan and Miss Shirley McCord were hostesses on Friday evening at the home of Miss McCord.

Fifteen guests were invited for the informal evening, and the bride-elect was presented with a linen shower.

Kangaroo Court Skit A Smash Hit

During the summer "dog days" children often get bored with the sameness of their everyday activities, but two imaginative mothers in our Pershing Heights suburb made long July days full of excitement for the youngsters in their neighborhood.

Mrs. Melvin TeSelle and Mrs. Frank Toohey dashed off a skit, assigned parts, and went into rehearsal with their group of enthusiastic young actors. And on Wednesday, July 29, the gala performance was given at the home of Mrs. TeSelle with an invited adult audience of 16 guests cheering the youngsters on.

The scene of action of the skit was a Kangaroo Court with judge, sheriff, and jury having a fine time charging and sentencing the numerous defendants, called from among the mothers and other ladies in the audience. The defendants were on trial for such misdemeanors as excessive coffee drinking, too much valuable time chatting on the telephone, and over-zealous lawn watering.

Pictured at the left are the members of the jury (front row, from left to right)

Tommy Engler, Jimmy Dingwell, Pamela and Linda Toohey, and (back row) Patty Klein, Cindy Hinman, Nancy Engler and Sharon Toohey. At the back are Sheriff I. M. Here portrayed by Jean Toohey; Mrs. TeSelle, tap dancers, Phyllis Leopold and Patty Mays, who were guest entertainers; and Bob Dingwell who played Judge M. I. Leftover.

Following the performance refreshments were served to the guests.

Meeting On Interstate Set

Omaha (UPI) — Governor Brooks said Friday that Nebraska officials hoped to get a clear picture of the interstate highway situation from a Saturday meeting in Chicago.

He said State Engineer Roy Cochran and administrative assistant Robert Conrad would attend the meeting.

The American Association of State Highway Officials invited Cochran and Henry Schlitt, deputy state engineer. Conrad will represent the governor at the conference.

Brooks, in a news conference here, said he did not know what would be done or said at the meeting, or whether any definite action would be taken.

Been On Phone

He said he and Cochran had been "on the phone to Washington for two days" trying to find out if Nebraska will get its announced interstate allocation.

Asked to comment on this week's proposal by the House Ways and Means Committee for a bond issue financing program, he said, "it looks like a little setback."

The committee proposed a financing program extending construction time for four years to 1976, and involving issuance of one billion dollars in bonds.

Waiting For Word

What this would mean to Nebraska should be explained at Saturday's Chicago meeting, he said.

He also said that his office still was a waiting official word from the State Highway Commission on the commission's approval of the north-south route for the interstate from Doniphan to North Platte.

He said he felt that the commission should submit such a letter, in view of the fact that there has been a debate over the north route as opposed to a route south of the Platte River.

The commission said earlier in the week it thought that formal notification had been made by submission of the minutes of its May meeting.

Brooks, who left here immediately after the news conference for the governor's conference in San Juan, Puerto Rico, said he did not believe the interstate routing through Omaha would result in more and more suburban shopping centers. Such centers, he said, are inevitable whether "there is or is not an interstate highway."

Brooks also defended his traffic safety program as well-organized.

"We are holding our own," he said, adding that there has been a sizeable increase in registered drivers and that the accident rate is roughly the same as last year.

He said traffic safety had never been organized in the state before. His safety committee has divided the state into regions, he said, and the first regional meeting will be held in Omaha soon.

BROOKS SIDES WITH STEEN ON HARLAN CO. RESERVOIR LANDS

Omaha (UPI) — Governor Brooks Friday sided with his state game commission director in a battle over unused federal lands at Harlan County reservoir.

Brooks said he felt the lands should be turned over to the state for recreational purposes.

Game Commission Director Melvin Steen has been carrying on a verbal battle with Sen. Carl T. Curtis (R-Neb), who has introduced a bill in the Senate to permit sale of the land back to its original owners.

Southwestern Nebraska interests have sided against Steen, and have petitioned the Army engineers to keep the land under federal control.

Brooks, at a news conference here just before he embarked for the governors conference at San Juan, Puerto Rico, said he felt that turning the land back to its original owners would be retrogressive.

"I'm inclined to agree with Mr. Steen," he said. "The lands cannot be made into park areas until they are made game preserves under state control."

Brooks also took note of McCook Publisher Harry Strunk's demand for an audit of funds taken in from state-owned farm lands at the three lakes in southwestern Nebraska.

"Mr. Strunk is asking for something that he has no right to ask for," Brooks said. "We don't have to audit those figures. We audit all our money and if anyone wants to look at any part of the audit, the books are open to him."

Strunk has been publishing a front-page box each day demanding an audit and said he will continue to do so until an audit is made.

Freight License Suspension Made

The State Liquor Control Commission suspended for 21 days the bonded carrier license of Merchants Motor Freight, Inc., Omaha.

The carrier pleaded guilty to charges of failing to deliver to the commission a monthly carrier's report for the months of January, February, March, April and May. The carrier also was charged with failing to deliver to the commission a duplicate bill of lading or receipt showing the name of the consignor and consignee, place received and quantity of liquor received by them for shipment to points in Nebraska for March.

The commission dismissed protests and granted a beer license to Howard and Mildred Reeves who operate the H & M Shopping Center, Whiteclay.

Liquor Group Sets Hearings

The State Liquor Control Commission cited five licensees and set hearings for all on Aug. 17 on the possible suspension or revocation of their licenses.

Ova H. Osborn, Hay Springs, is charged with selling beer to a minor. Andrew L. Braley, Hay Springs, also is charged with selling beer to a minor.

Bohumil Kudlacek, Dwight, is charged with selling beer to a minor and Stephan S. Cacioppo, Omaha, is charged with allowing a 16-year-old girl to have alcoholic liquor in her possession or physical control and for selling liquor to the minor girl.

Leon F. De Boer, who operates the Midwest Beer Distributing Co., Hastings, is charged with neglecting to file a monthly distributors report for the month of June.

Judiciary Drags Feet

New Delhi—India's tourism promoters are booming the ancient temples of Khajuraho as memorable objects for sightseers—and getting no co-operation from the judiciary. A New Delhi judge has banned the government tourism department's brochure on the temples, holding the pictures of love-making in the temple's statues and reliefs are obscene. Realistic portraiture of love-making is not uncommon in Hindu temple art.

Natives, Beatniks Wrangle

Venice, Calif. (AP)—Beatniks and property owners clashed head-on Friday and neither side gave quarter.

The Beatniks, of course, don't have any quarters. They're broke.

Property owners object to the bearded ones and their sandal-wearing girl friends who have made this lower middle class Los Angeles suburb the capital of the beat generation.

"We got to get on our feet and scream and get these people out of here," said A. S. Roberts, president of the Venice Civic Union.

Hot Retort

"Oh, those real estatniks," said Lawrence Lipton, author and Boswell of the beat generation. "They're trying to kill the arts in America."

At a hastily-called meeting of property owners, Roberts said that since the publication of Lipton's best-seller, "The Holy Barbarians," "Beatniks have been pouring in here from everywhere."

The property owners have opposed an application by the beats to open "a meeting place for artists" in a shabby store on the beach front. The hall, called the Gas House, has been a hangout for beatniks for several months. But now they need a license from the police commission to stay open.

Work Or Play

"The landlord group would prefer a saloon to a workshop for artists," moaned Lipton. He said the beatniks will answer the property owners "in the only way we know—as writers, poets, artists, musicians and dancers."

They plan to whoop it up at a meeting Saturday night at the Gas House. Lipton will top off the evening by reading, to jazz accompaniment, a poem, "Funky Blues Cornballs."

COL. ATKINSON

Col. Atkinson Retires As Fiscal Chief

Lt. Col. William J. Atkinson, United States Property and Fiscal Officer for the Nebraska National Guard, was presented his certificate of retirement Friday by Col. John B. Richardson Jr., Senior Army Advisor.

Col. Atkinson began his service career in World War I some 24½ years ago. He spent 13 years on active duty and was appointed to the U.S. Property and Fiscal Officer post in 1948.

Man Freed-Back An Hour Later

Within an hour after he had been freed on appeal bond after being convicted of drunken driving and driving on a suspended license, Ralph E. Long of 3015 So. 46th was back at the Police Station.

Long, 26, was arrested about a block from the station after he was again observed driving his car, police said.

He pleaded innocent to a second driving on a suspended license charge and his trial was set for Aug. 18. Earlier in the day he had been fined $100 and sentenced to 30 days in jail on the first suspended license charge and the drunken driving charge. He is now free on bonds totalling $1,500.

5,300 FANS JAM PARK TO SEE 3-1 LINCOLN WIN

Jays Silenced By Ron Teunis

... Conoco Night Big Success

By Don Bryant

With Sherman Field jammed to the gunwales, the Lincoln Chiefs celebrated Conoco Night with a nifty 3-1 victory over the skidding Green Bay Bluejays Friday night.

It was a wonderful night for a baseball game—not too hot, not too chilly and a jam-packed crowd of 5,300 fans pulling for the home club.

The Chiefs were equal to the occasion as Ron Teunis picked up his 8th win of the season with a fine 4-hitter in the good-for-Pop-and-Junior time of 1:48.

Teunis had to be good because the Chiefs couldn't do much with fireballing Burbon (Teacup) Wheeler who allowed just 5 singles.

But the Shermantowners had enough to record their 3rd straight victory against the first-half Three-I League winners now suffering through a 6-game losing streak. The win moved the Chiefs up to 6th in the second-half race.

Fox Cities' Foxes—now minus their ace shortstop Zorro Versailles who Friday was called up to the Washington Senators—move into Sherman Field tonight to open a 3-game stand.

Dick Kimball (4-2) will pitch for Lincoln.

Teunis didn't yield a hit until Ron Rossi beat out an infield bouncer to deep short in the 6th. And the Lincoln righthander had a shutout going until the 9th when the Blue Jays played an unearned tally via Fran Boniar's double, a wild pitch and an error.

The last-ditch rally by the Jays caused some wholesale heart-thumpings. Green Bay got the tying runs on base before Teunis got Don Williams and Pinchhitter Elmer Kohorst to bounce out, ending the snappy encounter.

Lincoln didn't have an easy time producing runs off Wheeler, who dropped his 5th of 3 decisions.

Gene Martin got the Chiefs' first hit in the 3rd and scored after Teunis was hit by a pitch and Jerry McNertney bounced into a potential double play that wound up with an error on the second-to-first-base end.

They nursed that lone tally until padding time arrived in the 6th. Teunis started the action by singling to center and McNertney followed with an infield single that produced the night's only double—but it was a good one that tickled the thousands.

McNertney bunted and the ball popped up down the 3rd base line. Three Bluejays dove for the ball which lit just inside the foul line and bounced out. Plate Umpire Jerry Carleton ruled a Bluejay had touched the ball in fair territory. By that time McNertney was adjusting his cap at first base.

Smoke Signals... The huge crowd spilled out of the grandstand and bleachers onto the field and in the 3rd inning the fans were allowed to pack the inside of the foul-line fences... It was one of the top crowds in Sherman Field history, comparable only to the final 1957 game, a 1948 Sunday doubleheader and the appearance of the Philadelphia A's which drew some 8,000... Lincoln pulled off a neat double play to help Teunis in the 7th... Lincoln's attendance for the year is now 33,482 paid, according to General Manager Rog Bottorff. The Chiefs have averaged 858 per opening.

Thus, if DeWitt's committee grants the Chiefs the requested $7,500, Lincoln will not receive an additional $4,000 from the "Million Dollar" fund at the conclusion of the season. However, the Chiefs might be granted $3,000 from DeWitt's group and $1,000 from the second group.

"We had hoped that help possibly would be coming from both groups," Bottorff said. "In that event, our troubles would become definitely smaller. But actually it is a matter of the major leagues shifting money from one pocket to the other. We can't draw from both and anything we get is charged against the other fund."

The Lincoln Chiefs applied for and received a grant from the DeWitt in 1958 which enabled them to settle some debts and prepare for entry into the Three-I League this year.

Lincoln has 18 more home openings this season in which to attempt to regain the early-season losses.

HE'S ANGRY—THE CHAP ON LEFT

The unidentified Cleveland Indian fan at the left, waving his thumb in a "you're out" sign, walked onto the field to file a personal protest of umpire John Flaherty's decision when he ruled Oriole Gene Woodling safe on a play at the plate in the 5th inning.

Legion, Bad Start Hurt NSL Giants

By Paul LeBar

Hastings — Hastings, the guess might be hazarded, could well be the hub of each summer's activity in the 4-year-old Nebraska State League.

The community of 23,000—county seat of Adams County in the fertile South Platte valley—has sturdy assets in both population figures and playing accommodations.

Its Duncan Field, now over 20 years old, has long ranked as one of the finest facilities in the state. The mammoth dimensions of the park boast generous seating accommodations, superior lighting and a well-kept outfield and infield.

But Hastings—as far as its Rookie League Giants are concerned—has a problem twofold in content. The Giant organization, guided in Nebraska by Leo Schrahl, Bradley University baseball coach, is confident it can overcome both ends of the problem:

—First, and perhaps foremost, the problem involves divided interests of local support. The Hastings American Legion Juniors, two times state champions in 3 years, are hard to compete with.

Hastings, long recognized as a mecca for kid baseball, has at best been slow to accept the professionals on equal terms with its home-bred Juniors.

—Second, the problem has involved status of Giant teams

Lincoln Asks For $7,500

... From Fund Committee

By Don Bryant

The Lincoln Chiefs have applied for a $7,500 grant from the Professional Baseball Leagues' Fund Committee, The Star learned Friday.

Lincoln's request was sent in a letter dated July 29 to William O. DeWitt, chairman of the fund committee, by A. Q. Schimmel, president of the Lincoln Baseball Club, Inc.

Schimmel was out of the city Friday and unavailable for comment, but General Manager Roger Bottorff confirmed the fact that a request has been submitted to the fund committee.

"We have requested the fund committee to help us," Bottorff said.

The letter, copies of which were sent to board members of the Chiefs, stated that the Lincoln club lost some $5,000 during June and that the projected season loss would run a great deal over $10,000.

Since the DeWitt fund is based on need and grants are made only after a club shows satisfactory reasons for losses the Chiefs listed 4 major factors in their attendance drop this year.

These were: (1) the change from Class A to Class B; (2) the loss of veteran Dick Wagner, former general manager who was the Sporting News' Minor League Executive of the Year in 1957 and quit baseball to manage Lincoln's Pershing Auditorium; (3) the growth of the Little Chiefs and other youth baseball programs; and (4) the inclement weather which has plagued the club throughout the season, particularly on nights when big promotions were scheduled.

There also is another "baseball fund in operation—the Major League's Million Dollar Grant—but it is set up to make outright grants to all minor league clubs at the end of the 1959 season.

Lincoln, by virtue of being a Class B club, is in line for some $4,000 from that particular fund.

Funds Inter-Woven However, the two funds are inter-woven to the extent that if a club receives a grant from one, it cannot draw from the other or the amount of money awarded is apportioned between the two, according to Bottorff.

Thus, if DeWitt's committee grants the Chiefs the requested $7,500, Lincoln will not receive an additional $4,000 from the "Million Dollar" fund at the conclusion of the season. However, the Chiefs might be granted $3,000 from DeWitt's group and $1,000 from the second group.

"We had hoped that help possibly would be coming from both groups," Bottorff said. "In that event, our troubles would become definitely smaller. But actually it is a matter of the major leagues shifting money from one pocket to the other. We can't draw from both and anything we get is charged against the other fund."

BROTHER-SISTER DUOS PACE SWIM

By Paul LeBar

Competition during the annual Sunday Star and Journal senior swimming championships at Capitol Beach pool Friday night was concentrated heavily among brothers and sisters two-somes.

Dave Frank and his brother Dick finished first and 3rd respectively in the boys' overall point standings, and 14-year-old Pat Murray edged Brother Dick Frank was second with 21 points.

Pat Murray won 3 first places to Sandie's pair and therein lay the difference in a 26-23 margin.

Dave Frank won the most events during the 16-event card, coming in first in the 200-yard freestyle, 100-yard breast stroke, 100-yard freestyle and 200-yard individual medley.

The other sisters rivalry involved Jennifer and Sandie Holman. Jennifer claimed an edge by eclipsing her sister in the girls diving competition, out sister Sandie, 16, for top honors among the girls.

Dave, who also copped the Lambert Trophy by finishing first in the 200-yard freestyle, edged out the boys' division, 22-21.

Good Juniors, Poor Start Hurt Hastings

ni the State League's brief history. During the opening year of the NSL, Hastings lingered in the cellar the season long, hardly an incentive for fan patronage in any league.

A revival the next season under the tutelage of Schroll—the team was a flag contender most of the way—was overshadowed somewhat by the glory brought home by the Hastings Juniors, a sectional finalist at Billings, Mont.

Fortunes Fall
Last year, again under Schroll, Giant fortunes fell off again as the rookie club dropped to 7th in the final standings.

It might seem only natural in the face of these adversities for resentment to arise between organization and city. But this has not been the case.

Under Manager Schroll's skillful and patient guidance the Giants of this season have jumped from a 2-8 beginning into that a challenger for the State League lead.

The club, possessing 14 of 26 youths 17 years of age or under, streaked recently to 12 victories in 17 outings to a strong 3rd place in the league.

Pilot Schroll, while gratified, makes no pretenses about the San Francisco head office objectives for the Hastings team. Loaded with 3 Class D club and two C outfields in the Giant chain, Leo cautions, "It's almost impossible to win a pennant here."

And Hastings, perhaps more so than any other

Rookie League affiliate, has been a proving ground for a tremendous influx of first-year players. "So far this year I've had 41 different ballplayers in 26 games, and that includes 21 pitchers," notes Schroll, a Notre Dame graduate whose minor league playing experience started with the Cincinnati chain and included stints with Peoria in the Three-I League plus Tulsa in the Texas League.

"When you change lineups every day, it's impossible to stress winning like you might like to," adds the Cresson, Pa. native.

Fans Best
Schroll stands pat in insisting, "I find that the fans here are among the best in the league. . . . You never hear the fans booing opposing players or managers."

San Francisco, whose chain boasts the most State League graduates still operating in organized baseball, is happy with Hastings and genuinely hopes whatever conflicts exist will iron themselves out.

Skipper Schroll sums it up this way: "We like the ball park, we like the lights, we like the people. We think we've done very well under the circumstances."

Pinch Blow Whips Cubs

Cincinnati (P) — Johnny Powers pinch-hit a home run in the 9th inning that gave Cincinnati the Reds a 5-4 victory over the Chicago Cubs Friday night.

Cub reliever Bill Henry and Don Elston had retired 16 straight Redlegs before Powers' decisive poke into the right field bleachers.

The Reds came from behind to set up an early lead, but that fell apart in the 9th inning off Redleg reliever Jim Brosnan.

Powers stepped in to bat for Brosnan, who took his 4th victory.

The early two-run Cincinnati lead had evaporated in the 9th when Bobby Thomson singled and George Altman socked his 5th season homer.

Brosnan had taken over in the 8th inning when an old groin muscle injury flared up and forced starter Don Newcomb to retire.

Longer Season For Waterfowl Being Pursued

The Central Flyway Council meeting in Helena, Mont., has recommended a longer geese hunting season this year, the Nebraska Game Commission reported Friday.

Director M. O. Steen attended the council meeting, which is composed of states in the waterfowl flyway areas of the U.S.

The council's recommendation goes to the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, which sets the season lengths and bag limits.

The council, however, recommended a 75-day duck season compared to 90 days last year. It also proposed a limit of 4 and possession limit of 8, with an optional proposal of a 60-day season with bag limit of 5 and possession limit of 10.

Canvasbacks and read-heads, however, were placed on the forbidden list for the season because of their low populations.

The season recommended for geese was 75 days, compared to 60 days last year. If approved for Nebraska, it would mean a season long enough to include the early flights of Canada geese along the Missouri River and late enough for late flights in Western Nebraska.

Last year there was an extra short season for blue and snow geese.

SENATORS CALL 'ZORRO'

Washington (P) — The Washington Senators baseball club, skidding on a 12-game losing streak, Friday called up a shortstop from the Three-I League and a pitcher from the Southern Assn.

It also is subject to adjustment following final action on the fiscal 1960 appropriations bill by Congress and the President.

The overall program is for 123,110 acres of land in 16 states which are not presently irrigated. Supplemental water supply also would be provided for 75,545 acres not now having sufficient water to assure crop production.

Bostwick Project

The program also includes $3,167,000 for the Glendo, Wyo., unit, a Missouri River Basin project. It also sets out $893,400 for investigations of Missouri River Basin projects in Nebraska, Wyoming, Colorado and Kansas.

The Bureau earmarked $2,590,000 for the transmission of the Missouri River basin project in Nebraska, Colorado and Wyoming.

Rainfall Eases Water Crisis

Bellevue, Neb. (AP) — Bellevue's water crisis had eased Friday.

Water plant Supt. Fred Dekker reported a 48-hour ban on sprinkling imposed by city officials Thursday enabled the city to build up its water reserves. They amounted to 690,000 gallons Friday with a low of 130,000 the previous day.

The fire department said about 230,000 gallons would be necessary to fight a major blaze.

State Game Commission Director Melvin Steen has proposed that the state take over the reservoir.

Power Integration Proposal Could Save Nebraskans $400,000 A Year, Study Shows

Smithfield, Neb. (AP) — By purchasing excess power capacities available from the Nebraska Public Power System, the Cornbelt Power Cooperative and Minnesota power group, the Bureau of Reclamation can meet the requirements of preference customers in the Missouri Basin until 1965.

This is the conclusion of a study made for the Mid-West Electric Consumers Assn., according to John Meyer of Smithfield, executive committee member of Mid-West.

Meyer predicts that this type of integration can save the preference customers from $2 to $3 million annually. The savings to Nebraska preference customers will be at least $400,000 annually, Meyer declares.

"Our belief," Meyer said, "that the electric consumers of the Missouri Basin could save millions of dollars by the integration of the excess winter power of Nebraska with the power of the large Missouri dams is now an engineering fact."

Meyer said that the study showed that:

An impending shortage of power for customers of the federally generated power could be averted by the Bureau integrating this power into its system.

That the integration of this 200,000 kilowatts of excess winter power with the power from the dams would make it possible for the Bureau to meet the 1965 requirements of its preference customers.

Meyer said that plans announced by the Bureau in Sioux Falls last December called for the Bureau to provide only 83% of the 1963 requirements of these customers.

"And," he adds, "this insufficient amount of power would not be available until 1965."

power by the USBR would make 13,000 additional KW available in Montana, during 1963: 34,340 KW in N.D.; 35,728 KW in S.D.; 67,000 KW in Minn.; 30,689 KW in Iowa and 40,119 KW in Nebraska for a total of 220,876 KW above the Feb. 20 revised study of the Bureau of Reclamation.

By 1965 the total additional available power would be 300,000 kilowatts the study shows.

"It is a matter of fact that the annual cost of providing a kilowatt of capacity and fuel is at least $10. This is the amount that would be saved by integrating each kilowatt of Nebraska power with the federally generated power," he said.

"Use of this power could begin immediately," Meyer said. "By 1965, the total dependable power from the dams could be increased by over 300,000 kilowatts by the use of this Nebraska power—at a savings of $3 millions annually."

Six-Legged Calf Born Near Garland

This holstein calf, owned by William Adams who farms near Garland, is unique. It has 6 legs. Adams, who has a herd of 50 holsteins, says it is the first time in his farming career that one of his cows has produced an oddity. According to University of Nebraska College of Agriculture professors, the birth of a 6-legged calf is "very, very rare." The calf, which is of normal size and weighs 10 lbs., was placed under the care of a Lincoln veterinarian. (Star Photo.)

U.S. Integration, Music Impress Foreign Students

French Lick, Ind. (AP)—Lack of a color bar left 33 students from foreign lands more impressed than any bars of music they heard at the French Lick Jazz Festival.

Some of the newly arrived students didn't dig the cool beat of Count Basie, George Shearing and the like, but almost all of them applauded the absence of the racial segregation they had heard ruled supreme in the U.S.

The students are taking orientation courses at Indiana University under State Dept. supervision before entering American colleges and universities this autumn.

Reactions Mixed

Here is what a couple of them said when asked how they liked their first taste of jazz music as staged in this southern Indiana resort:

"I am much more impressed with your integration of races than I am with your jazz," said Rachid Bestani, 23-year-old English literature student from Casablanca, Morocco.

"Here we see whites sitting with Negroes, and your performers are both white and black. We read many stories, but now we see."

But about the music. "It was too loud for me," remarked Tsueno Ishakawa, 29, Kyoto, Japan. "but it was exciting. You feel the excitement in the crowd."

Ang Thong, 19-year-old student from Phnom Penh, Cambodia, said in amazed tones, "I have never heard anything like it in Cambodia. We have native music, but it never sounds like this."

"It was just too loud," protested another Cambodian, 22-year-old Ing Chin Ho. "I

Cohen Damage Suit Trial Gets Started

20% State Hospital Patients Suffer From Old Age—Callan

... 'Not Real Mental Illness'

More than one-fifth of the patients in the Lincoln State Hospital are persons over 65 years of age who are suffering from the infirmities of old age rather than real mental illness, Clair Callan of Odell, chairman of the Governor's Commission on State Government, said Friday.

He made the statement after the commission returned from an inspection of the hospital.

As a result of their findings Friday, Callan said, the commission "will look into the feasibility of the state's setting up a unit or units for geriatric care."

Dr. Richard Gray, who took over as superintendent of the hospital Friday following the resignation of Dr. Frank Spradling, said Lincoln State Hospital has some 200-300 patients in this category, Callan said.

Good Care

These persons have been placed in the hospital as a means of their getting good care, said Callan.

The hospital, however, was established for the "treatment" of mentally ill persons rather than "caring" for those whose illnesses stem from organic complications due to old age, the commission chairman stated.

In order to bring more utilization of the services of the 7 physicians at the hospital trained to treat mental illnesses, Callan said, the state should look toward caring for geriatric patients through separate facilities.

With increased longevity this problem will grow with the years, he said, and it's time for some one to look ahead and determine how these persons are to be cared for.

Commenting generally on the commission's investiga-
